

International Anglican Family Network

Promoting front-line Family Care
throughout the Anglican Communion

Dear God

You know us completely.

You watch over our going out and our coming in.

You even count all the hairs of our head.

You are the place of our belonging.

How wonderful it is to know we are your children
loved and cherished.

Hear our prayer for your little ones.

Wherever children are not identified as citizens in the land of their birth

strengthen our determination to make sure they are registered and counted

- that their childhood is honoured and protected
- that they enjoy all benefits of citizenship
- that they thrive and can contribute to their communities

not hidden, but visible and valued

not forgotten but remembered and lifted up by the strong arms of societies that know how to treasure their young ones.

In the name of the one who welcomed the children and blessed them. Amen.

<http://iafn.anglicancommunion.org>

International Anglican Family Network

Promoting front-line Family Care
throughout the Anglican Communion

Dear God

You know us completely.

You watch over our going out and our coming in.

You even count all the hairs of our head.

You are the place of our belonging.

How wonderful it is to know we are your children
loved and cherished.

Hear our prayer for your little ones.

Wherever children are not identified as citizens in
the land of their birth

strengthen our determination to make sure they are registered and counted

- that their childhood is honoured and protected
- that they enjoy all benefits of citizenship
- that they thrive and can contribute to their communities

not hidden, but visible and valued

not forgotten but remembered and lifted up

by the strong arms of societies that know how to treasure their young ones.

In the name of the one who welcomed the children
and blessed them. Amen.

<http://iafn.anglicancommunion.org>

International Anglican Family Network

Promoting front-line Family Care
throughout the Anglican Communion

Dear God

You know us completely.

You watch over our going out and our coming in.

You even count all the hairs of our head.

You are the place of our belonging.

How wonderful it is to know we are your children
loved and cherished.

Hear our prayer for your little ones.

Wherever children are not identified as citizens in
the land of their birth

strengthen our determination to make sure they are registered and counted

- that their childhood is honoured and protected
- that they enjoy all benefits of citizenship
- that they thrive and can contribute to their communities

not hidden, but visible and valued

not forgotten but remembered and lifted up

by the strong arms of societies that know how to treasure their young ones.

In the name of the one who welcomed the children
and blessed them. Amen.

<http://iafn.anglicancommunion.org>

International Anglican Family Network

Promoting front-line Family Care
throughout the Anglican Communion

Dear God

You know us completely.

You watch over our going out and our coming in.

You even count all the hairs of our head.

You are the place of our belonging.

How wonderful it is to know we are your children
loved and cherished.

Hear our prayer for your little ones.

Wherever children are not identified as citizens in
the land of their birth

strengthen our determination to make sure they are registered and counted

- that their childhood is honoured and protected
- that they enjoy all benefits of citizenship
- that they thrive and can contribute to their communities

not hidden, but visible and valued

not forgotten but remembered and lifted up

by the strong arms of societies that know how to treasure their young ones.

In the name of the one who welcomed the children
and blessed them. Amen.

<http://iafn.anglicancommunion.org>

Réseau anglican international des familles

Promouvoir les soins de première ligne aux familles dans l'ensemble de la Communion anglicane

Photo: Plan International

IAFN promotes universal birth registration

Under-registration of births continues to marginalise millions of children, excluding them from the benefits and protection of citizenship. So we are promoting the role of churches in helping families to overcome the obstacles to birth registration.

International Anglican Family Network

Promoting front-line Family Care throughout the Anglican Communion

Photo: Plan International

IAFN promotes universal birth registration

Under-registration of births continues to marginalise millions of children, excluding them from the benefits and protection of citizenship. So we are promoting the role of churches in helping families to overcome the obstacles to birth registration.

International Anglican Family Network

Promoting front-line Family Care throughout the Anglican Communion

Photo: Plan International

IAFN promotes universal birth registration

Under-registration of births continues to marginalise millions of children, excluding them from the benefits and protection of citizenship. So we are promoting the role of churches in helping families to overcome the obstacles to birth registration.

International Anglican Family Network

Promoting front-line Family Care throughout the Anglican Communion

Photo: Plan International

IAFN promotes universal birth registration

Under-registration of births continues to marginalise millions of children, excluding them from the benefits and protection of citizenship. So we are promoting the role of churches in helping families to overcome the obstacles to birth registration.